PROJECTS

Memories Collection Application
Full stack MERN Application

November 2022

- Developed a simple social media app that allows users to share and document interesting events from their lives as "Memories". The app is built using the MERN stack.
- The app features a CRUD (Create, Read, Update, Delete) design. Users can also interact with memory cards by liking them, providing a way for users to express their appreciation for others' memories.
- Implemented MongoDB for database management and utilized Express framework to handle server-side routing and React for building the user interface.

Travel Advisor Application
Frontend - Web Application

December 2022

- Developed a Travel Companion Application using Reactjs framework that utilizes Rapid API, Travel Advisor and Open Weather Map APIs.
- The app provides information on food restaurants, hotels, and attractions near the user's location and suggests the best options.
- Implemented data filtering and sorting options, allowing users to easily find the best options based on their location and preferences, helping users plan their trip and make informed decisions about what to do and where to go.

Basic E-commerce server
Backend - Web Application

July 2022

- This project involves basic use of Nodejs.
- The app is capable to create, delete and update the products.
- MySQL is used as database with the help of sequelize.
